

METHOD FOR HIGHLIGHTING AND PERMANENT WAVING HAIR IN A SINGLE SITTING

ABSTRACT

A method for highlighting, or coloring selected portions of, and waving a person's hair in a single sitting. Only selected portions of the hair receive the waving treatment. In the same sitting, other selected portions of the person's hair receive a coloring treatment to attain, in those other selected portions, a color that is either lighter or darker than the subject's natural or preexisting hair color. The proportion of the subject's hair that receives the waving treatment and the proportion that receives the highlighting treatment may vary according to the subject's desires, but none of the subject's hair receives both the waving and the highlighting treatment.
